Maureen Spencer is a registered nurse with a master's degree in education and board certification in infection control. She is currently an Independent Infection Preventionist Consultant, and earlier in her career, she was the Director of Clinical Implementation at Accelerate Diagnostics in Tucson, AZ, and served as the Corporate Director of Infection Prevention for Universal Health Services. Additionally, she held roles such as Infection Control Director at New England Baptist Hospital and Director of the Infection Control Unit at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, along with various other infection prevention positions in the Boston area.

In recognition of her contributions to the field, Maureen received the APIC Carole DeMille Lectureship Award in 1990 for excellence in infection prevention. She was honored as an APIC Hero of Infection Prevention in 2007m and in 2017, she earned the designation of Fellow of the Association for Professionals in Infection Control and Epidemiology (FAPIC).

Maureen has published over 55 peer-reviewed articles and co-authored two chapters in the 7th Edition of Bennett and Brachman’s Hospital Infections (2023). As a recognized speaker and researcher, Maureen has delivered presentations, abstracts, and research at AORN, APIC, and other national and international conferences.

Maureen's dedication to infection prevention inspires healthcare professionals worldwide. Her expertise has taken her across the globe, where she has taught in numerous countries, including: Argentina, Austria, Canada, China, France, Indonesia, Ireland, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, South Korea, Spain, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, and Vietnam

Websites: http://www.infectionpreventionistconsultant.com

http://www.7sbundle.com

http://www.creativehandhygiene.com